Web navigation software for Windows 98/Me/2000/XP/Vista. Here's my question: How do you configure Internet Explorer 8? Internet Explorer 8 is the first version to utilize a complete new user interface (abbreviated by the acronym "UI" in the following) that consists of different windows. The taskbar is divided into three distinct sections, consisting of one central menu bar with four options: "Work", "Search" and "Tools" on the left side and "New" and "Delete" on the right side. All the elements of the interface are arranged according to the most common usage scenarios. For example, links to the start menu ("Applications"), a search field (search toolbar), shortcuts (quick access toolbar), and menu- and toolbars are present. When clicking on the link "Tools" the menu comes up, which consists of one sub-menu "Internet Options". Under "Internet Options" there is the option to open the new tab. This is only one of the many new features. I was wondering how to configure Internet Explorer 8 to open the new tab when clicking on the "New" or "Search" menu option. Thanks for your help. (Original question) I would like to know how to set-up my browser for using the "New Tab" feature. After installation, the "New Tab" option is available at the right-click menu. But I don't know how to use the "New Tab" option. We have changed to Internet Explorer 8 and I would like to go back to the Internet Explorer 7 toolbar. Could anyone help me please? Thanks in advance (Original question) How to change the default mail client in Internet Explorer 8 to Outlook Express? I use to use Windows Live Messenger as my default mail client and I am sure that Windows Live Messenger is not available on Windows 8. Thanks in advance.
