Create a new drawing using the "New Drawing" option. Double click the "Drawing1.dwg" file. Select "Open" from the "File" menu and select the "EngageKey.exe" from the location you downloaded it. Click the "Open" button and select the "EngageKeyGen.bat" file. Start the Autocad application. Type the serial number you got from Vasectron and the license key you got from Vasectron. Select "Save". After saving the drawing, close the autocad application. Start the Autodesk Autocad Application and select "Utilities". Select "Export Key" and select the ".xml" file from the location you downloaded it. After selecting the ".xml" file you will have a pop-up with a "Warning" message. Click on "OK". After exporting the key the application will close. Now, the key you got has to be imported into Vasectron. Go to "Data Center". Click on the "Key Generator" button and select "Import Key". After doing this the "Key Generator" will start importing the key. Now, you are ready to proceed to the next step. Step 3: Place the Vasectron Licensing Key into the Vasectron License Management Tool The Vasectron License Management Tool allows you to import the Vasectron license key. Go to the "Data Center" and select the "License Generator". Click on the "Generate a new license key" button. The License Management Tool will start generating a Vasectron license key. Enter the appropriate license key from the Vasectron License Key. Press the "Enter" key. Now click on the "Import new key" button. Now you have to select the "EngageKey.xml" file you downloaded earlier. After selecting the file the Vasectron License Management Tool will start importing the license key. After completing this process you are ready to close the Vasectron License Management Tool. Step 4: Import the Vasectron Licensing Key into your Vasectron Database The following steps will help
