In fact, it actually seems to run faster. And it does a good job of quickly detecting, configuring, and saving profiles. This is one of the best programs for controller configuration for Windows I have ever seen. You will never feel like your computer isn't worth using because of the software. I even use this when I connect my games to a 360 controller. I've looked for something like this for a long time, and it does look pretty good. It will be interesting to see if it works with some of the newer releases. Share this post Link to post Share on other sites That's a good note, Sledgehammer. I'll have to try some different games too. Some games have much better support than others. I do think the interface could be improved though. It's not very intuitive, and there could be more settings for profiles. Thanks for sharing it. I'm glad that you're enjoying it. It's so easy to use and the

What's New In Total Game Control?

System Requirements For Total Game Control:

Hetfield Chat Hetfield Chat is a unique, text based chat room, mainly for Hetfield fans. Our aim is to have a place where Hetfield fans can discuss the bands material in a friendly and lighthearted environment. Unfortunately some metalheads do not see the humour in new band discussions and they have always found their way to Hetfield Chat to give us a hard time. We can't ban them from the room, but we can encourage people to stick to the subject. Of course, there will be some Hetfield Chat regulars
