Midwave Crack Features: Abrasive/puretactic-Free sound off: You can change the sound off behavior of your radio. If you want your radio to be silent, no matter what, just set it to silent on all stations. No matter if any one of the stations is currently playing. If all stations are playing, you can still change the sound off behavior via the Edit station dialog. Compressed audio quality: Using Midwave you can save your podcasts and radio presets in the highest possible quality, that way when you add them to Midwave as presets, it can play them like native radio from the station. This is even possible if your media player does not support this yet. There are several different (lossless) encoders available at the website of Midwave. Control level at the station level: With Midwave you can control the volumes at the station level. This is often needed when you listen to a radio station in the car with windows/doors closed. If you want to adjust the volume of a radio station, just select the station and press the button to the right of the volume button (or control panel). The volume will be raised or lowered in equal parts. You can also do the same thing from the system tray menu of Midwave (menu: Synchronize Station Settings). Patch list at the station level: Like at the system level, you can also control the patch list of the station. This is often needed when you want to control multiple radios from one computer and want to skip the patch list (as MIDI requires). Or if you want to have just a few rascals on a Bluetooth device (e.g. headphones). Fullscreen Mode: Use the F key to toggle between the program and the fullscreen mode. Clicking on the button again exits fullscreen mode. In this way you can use the fullscreen mode as a program window. When you want to come out of fullscreen mode, press the F key again. Midwave Shortcut keys: To give the program a personal touch we recorded all the keyboard shortcuts and put them in one or more ini-file. In most cases there are two shortcuts available. To add a new shortcut key, right-click in the field below this and select Add shortcut... The new key will be added. When you want to disable a key, right-click on it and select Disable Shortcut... Shortcut keys are always a69d392a70
