game club – Its July I'll be having a 60 minute workshop tomorrow which I am super pumped about. It's a long time since I've done anything with fellow bloggers and I hope this can give us the opportunity to meet a bit and get to know each other as well as enjoy a nice evening. Does it sound scary? Perhaps it is but I'm over the moon about the opportunity! I'm hoping to have the game ready for us by 12, so anyone around at this time who would like to join us should pop into Ikea Fitzroy, 101 Swindon Street, and wait for me. I'll let you know when its my turn to run the game so that it's easier for those who don't want to be in a hurry. If there's interest, I'll write a whole post on the venue and what you can expect. Also, if you have a board game and you'd like to let me borrow it, do let me know!

Surveillance for pulmonary infections in hospitalized patients: a review of conventional and multiplex polymerase chain reaction. In an era of decreasing health resources, much attention is paid to quality improvement, including the use of surveillance measures to improve efficiency and effectiveness of health care delivery. The goals of surveillance of community-acquired pneumonia (CAP) include
