How do I make the keyboard come up in my window when I press a button and then scroll up and down with the keyboard? I can't seem to find anything on how to do this on the internet. A: Create an instance of UIScrollView. Attach it to your view controller's view. Add a UIBarButtonItem to it. Connect the UIBarButtonItem's action method to the scroll view's delegate method. scrollView.delegate = self; barButtonItem.action = @selector(doSomething:); In doSomething method simply call the function on the scroll view. Q: Http get request in a child class of Parcelable I have two classes, one of which implements Parcelable. The first one is a game manager with various methods to save and load the game state. The second one is the game itself, which contains around 50 buttons that need to be loaded when the game is started. I can't use the game manager's parcelable class because each of the
