Football (also known as soccer or football) is a fast-paced, team-based team sport that is popular worldwide. It's played between two teams of eleven players each, and is most commonly held over a pitch with a flat playing surface and a ball that can be kicked, carried, thrown, or headed. The players line up in two teams of eleven, with each team having a goal at each end of the pitch. The first to score wins the match, and the team with the most points at the end of the match wins. Players get two points for a goal, one for a successful shot on goal, and one for a handball. FIFA is EA SPORTS's flagship football video game franchise. It has achieved widespread popularity and is the best-selling game of all time. FIFA was first released in September 1992.
