In this tutorial, you will find out how to fix Quick Heal Free Download..Brain Surgery: Who is responsible for it? In 1922, the article Brain Surgery-the European Risks appeared in Medical Times, and stated that more than sixty percent of all cerebrovascular accidents were due to brain surgery. The article stated that 76 percent of all deaths in operation were due to brain surgery and only 9 percent due to arteriosclerosis. Thus, the brain surgery, was responsible for 76 percent of all deaths in operation. The article said: "the most common cause of death from brain surgery is accidental opening of the skull." The article also stated that most of the deaths were caused by unsatisfactory or faulty anesthesia. The article concludes by stating that at this time brain surgery is not a safe operation and most of the cerebral angiograms taken before brain surgery are unreliable. At the University of Michigan, surgeon, Dr. Norman Goll and neurosurgeon, Dr. Arnold Lewis were trying to reduce the number of deaths in brain surgery. In 1934, Dr. Norman Goll, stated in Medical Opinion: "The extent to which surgery, especially in the brain, was responsible for mortality, and the extent to which brain surgery was responsible for mortality, may be deduced from the data covering the period between the years 1910 and 1927." In 1939, Dr. Arnold Lewis stated in Medical Opinion: "The degree of mortality from brain surgery has diminished since the brain surgery safety period began in 1925. The decrease has been so great as to make the comparison with the report of the first period of brain surgery safety period unfair." He stated that the mortality was even more discouraging because the patients were subjected to brain surgery in the form of cerebral angiography, a test which, was not essential to surgery. In 1955, Dr. Arnold Lewis wrote a paper entitled: Cerebral Angiography, and said: "Hence, it seems that for at least half of the operative mortality, as opposed to the death rate during operation, there is no cause to be sought outside the brain surgery." In 1965, Dr. Lewis and Dr
